ADDRESS.

In compiling this Book, the main object has been to supply an admitted want, in as correct, useful, and interesting a form as possible. In these particulars it is hoped that some degree of success will have been secured, and that not only will the book find a circulation in this immediate locality, but also in those larger towns in the East and West Ridings whose manufacturers and traders find a market in Bridlington and its neighbourhood.

The contents of the book will be found to comprise brief descriptive Sketches, Lists of Public Bodies, Societies, Clubs, and other Institutions with the names of those holding office in connection therewith, together with a variety of interesting data and local information. The Directory itself is given under five distinctive arrangements. This plan has been adopted with a view to facilitate reference, and also the addressing of trade and other circulars. It will be obvious that a very considerable amount of labour has been involved. This, however, has been undertaken in full reliance of eliciting general approval and appreciation.

BRIDLINGTON AND BRIDLINGTON QUAY.

BRIDLINGTON.

Bridlington, or Burlington, as it is locally called, is an ancient market town, one mile North of Bridlington Quay, 31 miles N.E. of Hull, 40 miles E.N.E. of York, 18 miles S.E. of Scarborough, and 208 miles N. of London. Bridlington is situated in the East Riding of Yorkshire, in the Wapentake of Dickering, which forms the Petty Sessional Division, of which Bridlington is the head. It is also the head of the County Court District, and of the Poor Law Union, and gives its name to the Rural Deanery, besides being the most important town in the Parliamentary Division of Buckrose, of which, from its position, Driffield has been made the centre. The Parish of Bridlington includes the townships of Bridlington Quay; Buckton, Speeton, Sewerby-cum-Marton, Grindall, and the hamlet of Easton. It contained at the last census a population of 7963, made up as follows:—Bridlington, 3852; Bridlington Quay, 2781; Buckton, 151; Speeton, 160; Grindall, 179; Sewerby-cum-Marton, 547; Easton, 28.

Bridlington is chiefly notable for its Church, which is the remains of a magnificent structure dedicated to St. Mary, and part of an Augustinian Monastery which was founded in 1136 by Walter de Gant, and destroyed at the dissolution of the monasteries in the reign of Henry VIII; only the nave of the building, which served as the Parish Church, together with the ancient gateway of the monastery, known as Bayle Gate, being preserved. The living is in the gift of the Simeon Trustees, and is now held by the Right Rev. Bishop Hellmuth, D.D., formerly Bishop of Huron. By a recent purchase of the great tithe, the value of the living has been augmented, and is about £400 per annum. Throughout the last half-century the Church has undergone complete restoration, during the successive incumbencies of the Rev. George Smith, the Rev. H. F. Barnes (Canon Barnes-Lawrence), the Rev. Canon R. Blakeney, and Bishop Hellmuth. It now ranks amongst the finest of the parish churches of this country. The market is held on Saturdays by virtue of a charter granted to the Prior of Bridlington by King John. The fairs are held annually by virtue of the same charter; the one on the Monday preceding Whit-Sunday, the other on the 21st of October. By a grant of King Stephen, the custody of the port and harbour was confirmed to the prior and convent, and for four centuries the Manor of Bridlington formed part of the possessions of the monastery. After the dissolution, the manor, and also the curacy, were for many years leased to individuals, and subsequently sold. Eventually the manor was inherited by Sir George Ramsay, who, in 1630, and in consideration of the sum of £3260, conveyed it to William Corbett and others, on behalf of the freeholders of the manor. The purchase was confirmed by letters patent granted by Charles I. By this deed the body known as the Lords Feoffees of the Manor was created. The members of this body are elected by and from among the freeholders, and the election is for life. The Feoffees number twenty-five, thirteen of whom take precedence, and are styled “Lords,” the remaining twelve being styled “Assistants.” The Chief Lord is elected annually from among the former, the election taking place in February. The document referred to above, and generally designated the “Town Deed,” provides that so soon as seven vacancies are caused among the “Lords,” such vacancies are to be filled up by the election of seven “Assistants,” whose number is to be made complete by the election of the requisite number of freeholders. Down to 1868, when the Local Board was formed, the Lords Feoffees was the principal governing body of the town, and Courts Leet and Courts Baron were held annually in November, and presided over by successive Chief Lords. In 1887, the present Chief Lord proposed that the custom be held in abeyance until time and circumstances should warrant a revival. The proposition was agreed to, and the ancient custom of appointing a Town Jury for dealing with encroachments, and other matters relating to the manor, was also abolished. The “Town Deed” with others of equal interest are deposited in the muniment chest at the Town Hall, where by the courtesy of the Chief Lord they can be inspected at any time. Bridlington is mainly dependent upon agriculture, having no purely local industry; although during the earlier years of the present century, malting was extensively carried on and maltkils existed in considerable number. This trade totally died out some years ago, and no other has yet grown up in its place. The future of Bridlington, however, is undoubtedly becoming more and more identified with that of Bridlington Quay, whose prosperity it is enabled in some degree to share by the opportunity afforded of taking part in supplying the daily wants of the thousands of visitors, who are accustomed to seek health and pleasure in this locality. Bridlington has had many benefactors in years long past as well as in recent years, as the list of its Charities abundantly testifies. Some account of these is given elsewhere and may be found by reference to the index.
BRIDLINGTON QUAY.

From a comparatively insignificant place this offshoot of the old town has, during the last half-century, become one of the most fashionable and popular of the watering places on the north-east coast. Much of this rapid rise has taken place since the formation of the Local Board, who have greatly improved the town, particularly as regards the sea frontage, by the construction of the Sea Wall Parade and other extensive public works, not the least important having been the carrying out of a complete system of drainage. For these purposes the Board contracted loans amounting in the aggregate to £66,900, including £10,000 recently borrowed for the construction of the Beaconsfield Sea Wall, and £700 to complete the Bessingby Drainage. Bridlington Quay has unique advantages in its beautiful bay, its commodious harbour, its unsurpassed sands; each contributing to and facilitating the enjoyment of bathing, boating, and other healthful pleasures, The Harbour is formed by two piers. The North Pier was reconstructed and considerably lengthened in 1842, at a cost of £80,000. The present South Pier was built in 1845, at a cost of nearly £40,000. In addition to other uses these piers furnish agreeable promenades to the thousands of visitors who frequent Bridlington Quay. The Local Government Act was adopted, as already stated, in 1863: the district of the Board comprising the parish of Bridlington, exclusive of the outlying townships. In 1879, the district was enlarged for purposes of drainage and general sanitary control, and portions of the townships of Hilderthorpe, Sewerby and Bessingby were added. Differential rating with respect to improvements which heretofore had been levied by the Board in the proportion of two-thirds on the Quay and one-third on Bridlington, was then abolished; and equality of rating was established throughout the whole district of the Board. The population of the present enlarged district as shown by the Census returns of 1881, was then as follows:—Bridlington, 3852; Bridlington Quay, 2781; Hilderthorpe, 1463; Sewerby and Bessingby, 237:—Total, 8333. In 1801, the population of Bridlington and Bridlington Quay combined, was 3139, and in 1821, 4275.

The rateable value of Bridlington and the Quay, at the formation of the Local Board, in 1863, was about £14,000. Since that time it has gone on increasing, and with the extension of the district has now reached £29,518. The following tabulated statement gives in round numbers the assessable and rateable value of the district of the Board in 1888. The figures show a considerable decrease on previous years, due to reductions of assessments:

The number of houses in Bridlington and Bridlington Quay in 1801 was 701, and in 1821, 933. At the time of annexation in 1877 the number was 1651; and in 1888, 2135.

The annual expenditure of the Board is now about £6500, nearly one-half of which goes towards repayment of loans and interest thereon, the remainder being absorbed by current expenses in the general management of the district. Nearly the whole of the income of the Board is derived from the General District Rates. The annual amount from this source throughout the period of ten years, subsequent to the extension of the district, is given in the following tabulated statement:

The present liabilities of the Board in respect of loans for Improvements, Sea Defences, and Drainage Purposes, amount to a little over £51,000. A list of these loans will be found on page 8. Towards the cost of the Beaconsfield Sea Wall now in course of erection, the ground landlords and the property owners on the Estate contribute £1,200, which sum about covers the cost of the Skating Rink site and arbitration expenses connected therewith. Of the £25,000 loan on Sea Wall Parade account, more than one half has been repaid, and the whole amount will be cleared off within the next ten years. The loans contracted by the Board have been advanced on the security of the General District Rates; but over and above these the town has liabilities on the security of the Poor Rates, namely, £13,000, in respect of the Burial Board, and £1,000 in respect of the School Board, raising the total liabilities to £68,514.

Having given a brief outline of some of the leading features of the district, together with financial and other statistical information in connection therewith, it is not intended to invade the province of a Guide Book. Much useful information, however, apart from the Directory itself will be found in the following pages in connection with public institutions, public companies, benefit and other societies, clubs and associations, that have a “local habitation and a name,” and therefore form a definite portion of the microcosm herein presented.
MANOR OF BRIDLINGTON.

Chief Lord—Mr. George Brambles.
Town Clerk and Steward of the Manor—Mr. Martin Richardson.
Town Crier and Collector of Fair and Market Tolls—Anthony Waite.
Collector of Pier Rate—Theophilus Hermon.

The ordinary Meetings of the Lords are held in the Town Hall in February, August, and November, of each year. The Manorial income amounts to about £450 annually. From this has to be deducted the amount of the Pier Rate, about £250, which is collected by the Feoffees and paid to the Harbour Commissioners. The net income is therefore about £200 and is usually expended on improvements within the Manor, and on objects outside the jurisdiction of the Local Board. The last Election of Feoffees took place January 4th, 1887. The previous elections during the present century were in 1811, 1823, 1836, 1847, 1861, and 1878.

The several Committees are the “Highway,” “Finance and Rating,” “Building and Lighting,” “Sanitary, Foreshore and Improvement,” “Hackney Carriage,” and “Sea Wall Parade.” The last named Committee consists of the whole Board, a Sub-Committee being entrusted with the general management of the Parade, the minutes of whose proceedings are read and discussed at the ordinary meetings of the Board. Appended is a Tabulated Statement of the Results of the Polling at Local Board Elections since the Enlargement of the District, also the polling at the last election under the old constitution of the Board, and the one election of members for the annexed districts, the voting at which was confined to the ratepayers within those districts. The names of the successful candidates appear in the first division.

BRIDLINGTON CHARITIES.

These Charities, a list of which is appended, are mostly administered by Trustees in accordance with a scheme of management prepared by the Charity Commissioners in 1869. The Trustees are fourteen in number and consist of eight Ex-officio, namely, the Rector of Bridlington, the Rector's Warden, the Senior Parish Warden, the Vicar of Bridlington Quay, the Vicar's Warden, the Parish Warden, the Chief Lord of the Manor, and the Chairman of the Local Board; three co-optative, appointed by the Charity Commissioners; and three elective, one of whom retires annually by rotation, the vacancy being filled up by the parishioners at a vestry meeting held for that purpose, on Easter Monday. The present income is considerably smaller than in previous years, owing to the depressed condition of agriculture, and is dispensed in bread, coals, clothing, grants to institutions and money doles.

LIST OF THE BRIDLINGTON CHARITIES.

EDUCATIONAL.

Hustler's Charity.—The income of this Charity consists of an annual rent charge of £40, for the maintenance of a Grammar School, which has now been in abeyance for 22 years. The present accumulated fund amounts to £1047.

Bower's Charity.—The income of this Charity, known as the Knitting School, was formerly derived from land which has been sold and the proceeds (£1670) invested in Consols. The School having been discontinued 16 years, the accumulated fund amounts to £2420, producing £68 per annum.

Infant School.—By the sale of the Infant School building at Bridlington Quay, and the interest accruing from the investment of the purchase money (£450), a further sum of £679 is available for educational purposes, making the total accumulated fund £4146.
CHARITIES

administered by the Trustees under the Scheme of Management ordered by the Board of Charity Commissioners in 1870.

Cowton's Charity, comprising land at Bridlington and Sewerby, yielding about £180 per annum.

T. Woolfe's Charity, land at Ulrome, £50 per annum.

B. Woolfe's Charity, land at the Quay, £11 per annum.

J. Woolfe's Charity, formerly the Vicarage land, now invested in Consols, £20 per annum.

Dale's Charity, land at the Quay, £10 per annum.

Ripple Keld Close Charity, a rent charge of £2 per annum.

Hudson's Gifts, rent charges, amounting to £14 per annum.

Isaac Wall's Charity, £1,000 Consols, £30 per annum.

Ann Watson's Charity, rent charge, 26s. per annum.

Ann Yates' Charity, £100 Consols, which sum has been used for the redemption of tithe, and has to be repaid by annual instalments.

The gross amount of income from the above Charities varies from year to year, and is now about £331. From this a sum of £40, being a portion of Cowton's Charity, is paid to the Vicar of Hunmanby, for distribution amongst the poor of that place. The net income at the disposal of the Trustees is therefore about £281.

CHARITIES

under the control of the Clergy and Churchwardens.

Yarburgh Yarburgh Dole, four-tenths of £1000 invested in Consols.

Barker's Charity, £480 invested in Consols.

Mary Riby's Charity, £490 invested in Consols, the interest to go towards the general expenses of Christ Church, Bridlington Quay.

There are other Charities or Endowments which are exclusively for the support of dissenting Places of Worship, and in which the public generally are not directly interested.

ALLOTMENTS.

At a public inquiry held in the Town Hall, on the 22nd of March, 1888, before W. Good, Esq., under the authority of the Charity Commissioners for England and Wales, the question of appropriating portions of the Charities lands to the purpose of Allotments, formed an item of the Inquiry. The Inspector urged the fact that by the Allotments' Act it was compulsory on Trustees to make provision for carrying out the Act. Certain lands were therefore selected as suitable for the object, and the Commissioners will doubtless recommend, or order, the Trustees to let the lands referred to in allotments, so soon as arrangements can be made for that purpose.
BRIDLINGTON BURIAL BOARD.

This Board was formed in 1873, for the purpose of providing a Cemetery, the cost of which amounted to nearly £16,000. The Burial Board is composed of nine members, three of whom retire by rotation every year, the elections taking place in March.

A Committee was formed to further the object in view, and a deputation from the Committee waited upon the Local Board for the purpose of obtaining the assistance of that governing body towards carrying out the project. Nothing definite, however, has yet been arranged beyond the Board deciding not to purchase a Fire Escape. LIFE BOATS.

There are three Life Boats at Bridlington Quay. The first boat was placed here in 1806, and was purchased by public subscriptions. This was replaced by a boat of improved construction, which in its turn was also replaced by another, through the interposition of generous donors to the Royal National Lifeboat Institution. The present boat is named the “John William and Francis.” About twenty-five years ago Count Batthyany presented the fishermen of the town with a second boat, the “Harbinger,” and the terrible loss of life and destruction of property occasioned by the great storm in 1871, led to the Rev. Y. G. Lloyd-Greame presenting a third boat, the “Sea Gull.” This boat is under the control of a Committee, members of the Sailors’ and Working Men’s Club, namely:

G. Wallis, J. Robinson, W. Miles, J. Hutchinson, R. Bedlington, S. Smith, and H. Hutchinson.

Coxswain of Society’s Boat—R. Wallis.

The “Harbinger” belongs to the fishermen generally. The above Committee, however, undertake its management, the coxswain being selected as occasion prompts. There is also a boat, the “George and Jane Walker,” stationed at Barmston, belonging to the Royal National Lifeboat Institution, which is worked by the Quay fishermen.

BRIDLINGTON,
BRIDLINGTON QUAY, AND HILDERTHORPE
STREETS DIRECTORY.

The names of the Streets and Roads of Bridlington, Bridlington Quay, and Hilderthorpe, will be found given under these respective headings. The arrangement first deals with a main thoroughfare and next with those leading therefrom. With regard to the Quay Road, one portion (down to the "Crown" Inn) will be found under the heading of Bridlington, and the other under that of Bridlington Quay, as forming part of the ecclesiastical district of Christ Church. The numbers in the main streets and thoroughfares, where given, are placed before the names of the occupiers, while the numbers of terraces, &c., which form an integral portion of those thoroughfares, are placed after them. In some cases the numbering has been found to be very irregular and fitful, and together with the names of some streets, so called, require the attention of the Local Board.
